

Tangled Puzzles

I seem to have gotten two of these hint puzzles rather tangled. Let's see if you can manage to set things straight. There's another puzzle that's tangled together with this one like this: The solution to that other puzzle gives you the key to unlock the message that's hidden in this puzzle. But then the solution to this puzzle is a hint that gives you the key to unlock the hint that's hidden in the solution to the other puzzle. Does that sound too confusing? Don't worry—you'll see that it all makes sense once you figure it out.

The message hidden above can be entered in the blanks below. Punctuation is provided, and each / represents the separation between two words.
